

Macmillan Coffee Morning

What an amazing morning! Thank you so much to everyone who donated cakes, bought cakes, and helped to sell the cakes! Macmillan do such a wonderful job to support all those impacted by cancer, and we are very proud to be able to support such a worthy cause.

"This is the best day"

"I loved the cake with pink icing on"

"I am proud we are helping an important charity"

Real Life Maths!

We can do lots of work to support our English and maths skills outside of the curriculum and outside of school. Sometimes the 'real life' opportunities help us to understand the learning because it is within a real context.

Well done to our Y4 children who took on the task of counting the money raised from our cake sale. This was an important task and the children demonstrated great knowledge of money and impressed Mrs Barlow with their calculation skills!

Can you help your child with some 'real life' learning opportunities at home?

When you visit the shops, can they work out the cost of items or the amount of change needed?

Can your child help with weighing out ingredients for baking/cooking?

Does your child know how to tell the time? Can they practise at home using 12 and 24 hour clocks?

Can your younger child match up socks to find pairs?

Jan says "What a great job the children did with counting all the money raised. This normally takes me a long time and I was very busy on Friday, so I really appreciated the help to get the job done! Thank you, Y4"

Autumn has arrived! It is that time of year where we can wrap up warm and get out for some fresh air – blowing away the cobwebs is good for the mind, body, and soul. Early Years have been working hard to use natural resources to help them produce portraits – and this is something that we can all have a go at! You could use natural resources to produce pictures or portraits – let your creativity run wild! Share and tag us in your photos on Twitter @EgremontPrimary

Art is a great way to engage the whole family – we can all access art at our own level! From ‘Draw with Me’ by Rob Biddulph to observational art, we can all have a go! Year 4 have spent their art session this week doing observational drawings – they looked closely at shells and dried flowers and used pencil and pens to complete their work. With colder weather and darker nights, why not have a family art evening!

STRIVE FOR FIVE – We encourage all of our children to ‘strive for five’ and read 5 times at home during the week. Reading at home is important for every child. It is also important for our children to be read to at home – we read to the children daily at school and it is one of their favourite times of the day! Please support your child with reading at home and ensure that they bring their book to school daily.
